Plans for rearranging the names of streets and avenues in Hamlin to facilitate the finding of locations by strangers here, and to aid home residents in giving their proper addresses, were being made this week, when committees from both Lions Club and the Rotary Club delved into the problem.

In addition to the plan for rearranging and re-naming streets and avenues, the committees also made a committee for getting all houses in Hamlin properly numbered as to block numbers.

Three Wells Hit Pay Zones Here During Week

Pay zones were picked up by three wells in the growing Hamlin field, it was reported here Thursday by servers of the Round Top area.

The Ellis A. Hall, Sterling well came in for an estimated 200 barrels a day when the Palo Pinto reef penetrated at about 4,600 feet.

Ellis A. Hall, Wilson No. 2, and Palo Pinto late Wednesday and was drilling into the pay zone Thursday morning. No test had been run on the hole prior to Thursday morning, but oilmen said it gives promise of being a good producer.

An offset to the Texas Co. W. D. Stephens No. 5, came in for 150 barrels at 4,720 feet. The test was run on a quarter inch choke. The Palo Pinto in this well was running about 10 feet lower than in nearby completions.

The Flores No. 5, being drilled by General Crude, was drilling at about 3,400 feet Wednesday and expected to hit the Palo Pinto later this week.

General Crude has filed for a permit to drill on the Y. Flores location in the southwest corner of town 212, and expected to begin operations this week. The permit calls for 5,000 feet.

Drilling was expected to start late Thursday or late Friday on the Towne No. 3, drilled by Dr. W. H. Bryant in the Swenson tract. A rig was moved in to the location Wednesday.

A new producer came in the Hardy field, 10 miles east of Hamlin when the Great Lakes Carbon Corporation, No. 9 Warren B. Tayman, tested 161 barrels of 40 gravity oil in 24 hours through quarter inch choke. The well was drilled to 3,720 feet and perforations were made at 3,654 -72 feet.

Sadler Warned Our Liberties Are in Danger

Harley Sadler, well known showman, public speaker, and former member of the state legislature, warned members of the Hamlin Lions Club at their Tuesday noon luncheon that Americans are in danger of losing their liberties.

Discussing trends of events during the past 20 years in light of the principles that motivated George Washington, the speaker pointed out that many Americans today are ready to sell their heritage of freedom for a "mess of pottage."

He said that recent trends have been toward subsidies for various endeavors and business ventures. "I am not saying these subsidies are right or that they are wrong," he declared, "but now they propose to subsidize the schools. When government begins to pay the costs of any program, government has the right to control that program."

Sadler closed his talk by urging that members of the club take a more active interest in Christianity as the foundation of all endeavor. He said Christianity formed the basis for the building of our nation and that the principles of Christ are what have made our country great.

It was pointed out this week that the plan as advocated will enable any out-of-town visitor to find his way to any part of Hamlin without difficulty, and the system can expand with an expanding town.

Red Cross Drive To Open March 1

Hamlin's Quota Is Set at $892; County Is Asked to Raise $5,013 in Campaign

Hamlin residents were asked this week to contribute a total of $892 to the annual funds campaign of the American Red Cross. George O. Harrell of Anson, county chairman announced.

The campaign is slated to get underway Tuesday, March 1, and will continue throughout the month, or until the county's quota of $5,013 is raised, Harrell said.

The quota for the county this year is more than $2,000 less than the quota assigned to Jones County last year, when the amount was $7,069.

Quota for Anson for the current drive is $960 and for Stamford is $1,918, Harrell revealed.

Arlie Cassle of Hamlin has been named chairman for the local drive, and he announced this week that an intensive effort will be made to raise Hamlin's part of the county total the first week of the campaign.

A banquet meeting will be held in Anson in the Memorial building next Tuesday night, when all community chairman and workers are invited to be present for the start of the drive.

A total of $60,000,000 is being sought in the nationwide campaign for Red Cross this year, Basil O'Connor, national president of the organization said. This amount is materially less than that sought during 1948.

"The Red Cross," O'Connor said, "is ready at a moment's notice to go anywhere that disaster or misfortune strikes. Whenever floods, storms or serious fires visit any area the Red Cross is usually the first to arrive and the last to leave. Its work of relief and mercy extends to all races, colors and creeds of people to provide help in times of extreme emergency."

It has been requested that churches throughout the country observe Red Cross Sunday on February 27, two days before the annual campaign for memberships is scheduled to start.

Thomas Is Fined for Assault in Car Crash

Edgar Franklin Thomas, 25, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty in Anson court Tuesday to a charge of assault with a motor vehicle. The charge was filed as a result of an automobile crash on highway 83 Saturday night, when Thomas' car rammed into a car driven by G. H. Gruppe, 52, also of Hamlin. The crash took place about three miles east of Hamlin.

Both Thomas and Gruppe were taken to the Hamlin Memorial Hospital for treatment, and both were released Sunday.

In addition to the fine and costs, Thomas paid Gruppe $300 for damage to his car. Thomas admitted officers said, that he was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Varsity Drubs Faculty Cager Team 28 to 18

Hamlin's Pied Piper basketball team overwhelmed the touted faculty players Tuesday night by the lopsided score of 28 to 18 in a game at the Elementary School gymnasium.

The game was played before an almost capacity crowd, and according to spectators proved to be true to its billing—the game of the year.

Led by I. R. "Hotshot" Hutchinson, the faculty players included B. V. "Highpoint" Newberry, Truman Nix, Joe Douglass, Jesse Burditt, Marvin Carlton, Truett Black and one maverick, Claud Lancaster, whose brilliant playing was said to have been a large factor in the defeat of the faculty.

Alibis were flying thick and fast after the referees whistle blew to mark the end of the contest.

Hutchinson, who had boasted to a Hamlin Herald reporter last week that the faculty intended to win by "fair means, or foul," said that the team had been doublecrossed.

When asked to explain the statement, he subsided into moody silence, but finally mumbled that "the faculty team deliberately threw the game to maintain the morale of the high school players."

Burditt, erstwhile coach of the opposing crew, was reluctant to make a statement after the close of the playing. However, he did say that the varsity squad would not have shown up as well as it did had it not been for the brilliant coaching that members had received earlier in the season.

Coaches for the Pipers for the evening were John "Jigger" Rowland and John "Mite" Adams.

Preceding the faculty-Piper contest the Hamlin B team played Junky Joe's Wreckin' Crew.

In pointing out advantages of belonging to the VFW, Huff said "Each local post maintains a welfare and service officer who is responsible for the needs of veterans in every practical way. Another advantage is the opportunity of mingling with other overseas veterans. Also every post has a full calendar of social activities, and maintains clubrooms and canteens."

Heavy Invasion Of Grasshoppers Feared in Area

A heavy invasion of grasshoppers in the West Texas area is feared during the spring and summer, the U. S. Department of Agriculture warned farmers this week.

Grasshoppers by the billions are expected to invade a wide area which will include this part of Texas, the warning said. Other regions expected to suffer from the infestation are Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas and parts of Oklahoma.

Farmers have been warned to begin the fight against the destructive pests early in the year to prevent serious destruction of growing crops.

Several effective measures for control have been recommended by the department.

Grasshoppers have been on the increase since 1947, it was pointed out, and are expected to be at their peak cycle this year. The last bad year for the pests was 1940.

The Seeds of Democracy

The very seeds of democracy are contained in the concept of brotherhood as proclaimed in the observance of national Brotherhood Week.

The essence of democracy is based on the principle that "all men were created free and equal, and were endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights."

We in America long have sought the goal of "equal rights for all and special privilege for none," although we have fallen far short of attaining that condition.

Much progress has been made in recent years toward the elimination of discrimination and racial prejudices. Many people who once were victims of the virus of prejudice, no longer harbor hatred or resentment toward people of another race or color or creed.

It is the retention of such unfair ideologies that has caused politicians to clamor for the passage of so-called civil rights laws that would force an end to segregation and the abolition of discrimination.

However, racial problems cannot be solved by the passing of laws. They cannot be banned by compulsion. Racial problems can be solved only where they originate, within the hearts of individuals.

Whenever individuals come to recognize that the teachings of Jesus do not permit the idea of the superiority of any race, and that the Bible teaches that all men were made in the image of God, then and only then, will we rid our land of the undemocratic practice of heaping indignities upon those of another color or race or religion.

No man can truly follow the precepts of Jesus if he holds to the undemocratic doctrine of racial discrimination; nor can any man truly exemplify the ideals of democracy if he believes that any race is inferior to his own.

Not only are the seeds of democracy contained in the concept of brotherhood, but also the seeds of Christianity are found in the doctrine that God was the creator of us all.

A Good Start

An excellent start has been made by the Hamlin City Council toward taking care of minor improvements that are needed to put our city on the path of progress and growth.

The Herald offers sincere commendation to the members of the council for their action in ordering a survey for the purpose of installing additional street lights. A small thing of itself, this action was needed to lift our town out of the darkness, and enable us to build for a better future.

No definite promises as to the number of lights, nor as to the location could be made by the council, but members were agreed that lights are needed.

It is likely, as was pointed out, that the operation of additional street lights will entail the expenditure of more money than is now available. If such proves to be the case, the council will have no choice except to raise new funds to take care of the situation. Progress always costs money, but true progress is well worth its cost.

Light in our residential areas will help to make our streets safer and more attractive, and will enhance the appearance of Hamlin to visitors.

Numerous other small things are as sorely needed if we are to build a city. Among the essential changes, and on which effective work is now being done, is the proper naming of streets and the numbering of houses. Other needed improvements include the repair of sidewalks and cross walks; the repair of streets and alleys; and the removal of unsightly weeds, dead trees and piles of junk.

However, not all of these things can be done at once, and the start that has been made is commendable. Members of the council are due the thanks of all Hamlinites for their promptness in taking care of the matter of lights.

Passing a Law Won't Cure Trouble In Economic System, Franks Says

By Maurice R. Franks

Even the laws of a representative government, such as ours, fall far short of providing workable formulas in the area of industrial relations. It isn't necessary to fumble our way through the maze of labor legislation enacted by our Federal Congress since the birth of unionism in order to spot the essential weakness of laws. It was the so-called Simon Legers of American industry who created the conditions that made possible the growth of organized Labor.

Public opinion has always favored, and always will favor, the working class. This being the case, it is not hard to understand why Congress has passed one law after another to strengthen the workers' position. It was this trend that culminated in the Wagner Act—Labor's so-called "Magna Carta"—designed to give Labor full bargaining rights with employers and thereby cut down the causes of strife on the industrial front.

This was the intent of the Act. However, in effect, it amounted to regimentation, a legislative attempt to standardize business—separate the working class as Labor, the business class as Employer, and thereafter to provide certain rules of thumb for the settlement of their differences. And in so doing, it placed individuals in a state of compression. Under the Wagner Act, Labor, through the abuses of its leaders, developed a degree of greed comparable to the breed of the employers of an earlier day.

This served to arouse public opinion to the point where it turned away from Labor's cause for the purpose of uplifting another underdog—this time, believe it or not, the Employer. Responding to the voice of the people, the 80th Congress cut through the Wagner Act with a broadcast amendment known as the National Labor-Management Relations Act, generally referred to as the Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

After the hearings on this act had closed and all the shouting had died down, the vote was taken. The law was passed, and yet, with its passage over the President's veto, that we Americans now have is a new law upon the statute books—a law designed to formalize industrial relations and dictate the conditions under which they are to be legally obtainable. But the fact remains that the people involved in industrial relations are still human beings, have the same individual problems, have the same tempera-

Health of Nation Jeopardized by Socialized Medicine Peck Believes

By George Peck

How's your health? I hope it's good. But let me warn you that your health, that of your relatives, living and as yet unborn, as well as that of your neighbors, isn't going to be so good if the 81st Congress makes the catastrophic legislative blunder of putting the Federal Government into the medical business as recommended by President Truman.

This threat to the nation's health, physical, mental and social, has hung over our heads since 1943 when Senators Wagner of New York and Murray of Montana introduced Senate Bill 1161. Some years previously Senator Wagner had placed the executives of industry behind the 8-ball with his Wagner Labor Relations Act—in 1943 he was hell-bent on putting the medical fatality in the same untenable position.

The 1943 Congress was smart. It knew there was no public demand for socialistic practices in the field of medicine, or for that matter, in any other field in America. As I recall it the bill did not even come out of committee—at any rate, the physicians and their patients up to this writing are still free individuals.

There is no more demand in this year of 1949 than there was in 1943 for socialized medicine. There is no possible excuse for arbitrarily placing men of science, engaged in basic human welfare work, under political domination. It would be a mere step farther, and scarcely more inconceivable, to place all religion, all education, all art and culture, all industry and all business activity in the hands of a few un-elected, unbridled bureaucrats.

This socialized medicine business is just one more of those Utopian schemes to bamboozle the American people into believing that you can get something for nothing, a farther part of what has all the earmarks of being a carefully calculated plot to plunge this liberty loving nation into a totalitarian economy. We just spent billions of dollars and expended many thousands of lives waging a war to stamp out the Hitler brand of totalitarianism, and we are now spending more billions of dollars in an attempt to check the Moscow variety.

The proposal to regiment our doctors into government service is just one more facet of the attempt to radically alter the American Way of Life, to make the people slaves to the government, instead of as he tofore having the government as servant of the people.

This proposal ignores the indisputable fact that for many years under free medicine, adequate socialized health, disability and hospitalization insurance have been available to the individual according to his own needs, his own will, his own prerogatives.

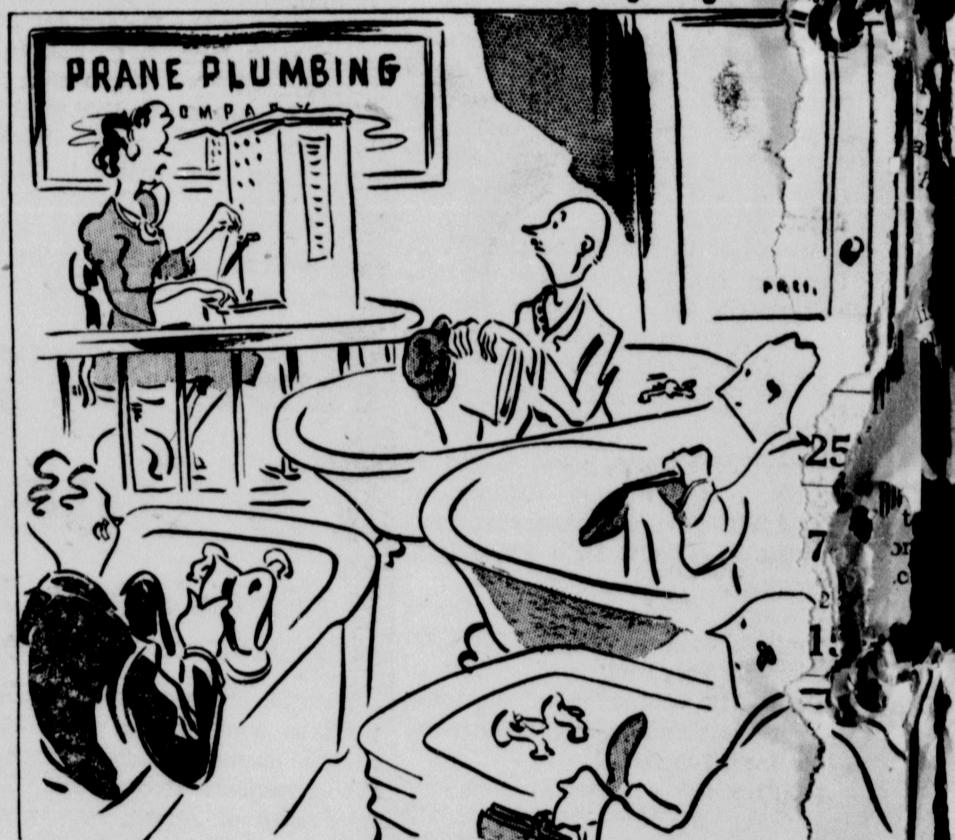

The free doctor, as we know it now, practices preventive as well as curative medicine and in addition is a counselor and friend to his patients. His services are rendered gratis as such—whose illness are distinct and confidential. He waits no clocks only to be on time at hand to repair broken bodies, save human lives. He is to just and adequate reward devotion to humanitarian practices. His fees have been, nor ever can be regulated, physician cannot go on strike against his own best interests.

If it is your desire that there be no interference with this order and beneficial procedure; if you wish the physician to keep his dignity; if you yourself would like to maintain your freedom and health write your Congressman and your Senators that your health is good that you have a burning desire to keep it that way—tell them to drop this socialized medicine package to the Congressional garbage can where it properly belongs.

Talk often, but never long, in that case, if you do not please least you are sure not to hearers.—Lord Chesterfield

HIGH PRICES?
We hate them too!

For a very selfish reason we are just as interested as you are in bringing prices down. When you can't buy, we can't sell. So your problem with the high cost of living is our problem too. May we point out some of the ways we can help?

By cutting out expensive "frills" we make many savings. These savings allow us to price everything low, every day.

But that's not all. Our advertising can help you too. It tells about the foods which are in season—those which are the best buys right now.

On meats too. You get more value in every pound when you buy our trimmed-before-weighing kind. Because we price fruits and vegetables by the pound, you can buy exactly the amounts you need. You cut waste and save again. A money-back guarantee on everything we sell protects you against loss on any purchase.

We believe shopping regularly at Safeway will help reduce your cost of eating. Will you try it?
